Course Introduction

Public-Private Partnerships Market Engagement Strategies Training Course provides a practical and strategic framework for professionals involved in public-private partnerships to design, manage, and evaluate effective market engagement throughout the public-private partnerships project lifecycle. The course focuses on market sounding, investor engagement, private-sector consultation, stakeholder mapping, procurement strategy, market intelligence, transaction preparation, competitive dialogue, investor confidence, and transparent communication. Participants will develop the skills required to understand private-sector expectations, assess market appetite, identify potential investors and lenders, and structure engagement strategies that improve project bankability and competitive participation.

The course also examines international public-private partnerships market engagement practices, digital engagement tools, investment promotion techniques, risk communication, and commercially sensitive information management. Through practical exercises and global case studies, participants will learn how governments and public institutions can build credible project pipelines, reduce market uncertainty, strengthen investor confidence, improve bid quality, and create transparent and competitive public-private partnerships procurement environments. The programme is designed to support evidence-based decision-making, sustainable infrastructure development, value for money, and successful private-sector participation.
