Course Introduction

Xenophobia and discrimination remain pressing global challenges that undermine social cohesion, human rights, and sustainable development. Xenophobia and Discrimination: A Socio-Legal Analysis Training Course provides participants with the knowledge, analytical tools, and legal frameworks necessary to understand, address, and mitigate the harmful impacts of exclusionary practices. Through a socio-legal lens, the program emphasizes the intersections of law, policy, culture, and human behavior in combating systemic inequality, racial bias, and ethnic intolerance.

Designed with practical strategies and case-based learning, the course equips participants to critically assess the root causes of xenophobia and discrimination, while exploring effective interventions at local, national, and global levels. By focusing on social justice, equity, diversity, and inclusion, learners gain insights into best practices for creating safe, inclusive, and equitable environments across institutions and societies.
